No Steps to Bring Peacock Back Taken

N. C. Man Who Escaped Insane Department of Prison Now in Florida, Where He Has Been Declared Sane—Extradition Is the Question Now.

(By the Associated Press)
RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 16.—No steps have been taken toward bringing Dr. J. W. Peacock back from Florida to the criminal insane department of the state prison from which he escaped on September 3, last. Attorney General J. S. Manning said today it would be within the power of the Florida governor to honor or deny the request for extradition. He said that the Florida court has declared Dr. Peacock to be sane and would not obstruct the governor of that state should he desire extradition commencing the case with that of Harry Thaw wanted in New York and found to be insane in New Hampshire. The supreme court of the United States held that the governor of New Hampshire could honor the extradition papers if that was his wish.

Requests for extradition papers in the Peacock case could come from the superintendent of the state prison and he is out of Raleigh today. Warden J. S. Bush of the North Carolina state prison said he had wired the authorities at Bradfield and St. Petersburg yesterday to arrest Dr. Peacock, advising that the physician had escaped from the criminal insane department of the penitentiary. Mr. Bush said he had received no reply to his messages. Asked if he would release the request on the governor of Florida for Peacock's return, Governor Morrison said he had no statement to make regarding the case at this time.

NO WORD RECEIVED IN ST. PETERSBURG.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 16.—While reports said that Dr. J. W. Peacock, who escaped last year from North Carolina's penitentiary, was enroute to St. Petersburg where he was said he intends to practice medicine, word had been received early today. Court records show that Peacock was declared sane at Bradfield, Fla., Thursday before Judge J. W. Whitchurch after an examination by two physicians at Bradfield, according to reports from Lakeland. According to information there, Peacock was examined privately and admitted to extruding him to North Carolina where he was in the criminal insane department of the penitentiary after having killed the chief of police at Thomasville, N. C.

Will Outline Plans Of Year For Education

RALEIGH, N. C., January 16.—In addition to the usual business that will be transacted at the annual meeting of the executive committee of the North Carolina Education Association here next Saturday, the officials will outline the plan of work for the year to be submitted to the local units for adoption. The recommendations of the committee approved by the teachers of the state through this referendum will constitute the program for 1923.

The committee will make its recommendations from the report of the special committee appointed at the assembly in November to consider the suggestion of the secretary. In the opinion of officials of the organization, it was stated, the results of this committee meeting and of the referendum will mark an important step in the organized efforts of teachers.

Among the important recommendations of the special committee, composed of Dr. T. C. Amick, of Elon College; Dr. W. A. Withers, of North Carolina State College, and Superintendent S. L. Sheep, of the Elizabeth City schools, are the following:

"The holding of group or sectional meetings of teachers during the year in addition to the one big meeting which has been held every year in the past. This will carry the work of the association to every teacher in the state."

"Providing a committee which will work with the department of education in the revision of school laws, which relate to the teachers."

"The appointment of a committee which will make a careful study of the retirement laws of other states, with a view of working out a retirement law that will be adapted to North Carolina. It is expected that these studies will cover every state in the union that has adopted a retirement law, and it is the hope of those interested in this particular feature that the committee will be in a position to ask the legislature of 1923 to act on this legislation."

"Consideration of the establishment of a magazine or journal which will go to all members of the association."

"Co-operation with the state department of education in making studies of outstanding educational work in the state, and having these published in bulletins."

"Consideration of a suggested program of work for the local units. The president of Elizabeth City, Dr. Elizabeth Kelly, has some very interesting suggestions for the program for the locals."

"Some changes in the plan of operation of the placement bureau so that the cost of this service will be distributed among those who use it rather than the whole membership of the association."

"In addition to his report of Dr. Amick's committee, the executive committee will consider the applications of groups of teachers for the creation of new branches of the association. Included in these requests for new divisions are the physical education teachers department, a department for art teachers, a department for kindergarten teachers and a department for science teachers," it was stated.

At officers who searched his home yesterday. It is said that at Harrison he was called before the Vigilance Committee and that he defied them, avowing "a day of reckoning" would come. A coroner's jury is being empaneled to probe the killing. Several hundred armed people who began "house cleaning" yesterday still were walking the streets today looking for strikers who they were grilling before a committee to find out who is responsible for the destruction of railway property. A well known carman and hotel owner, the correspondent says, was whipped on the street this morning and then taken before the citizens committee. He is said to have signed the bond of A. P. Stevens, accused of the bridge burning. The circuit court adjourned to January 29.

Early Action Expected In Suit On Will

It was learned today that not many days will pass before some definite action is taken in the attempt to break the will of John E. Hughes. It will be taken by the heirs at law. This possibly may come before the end of the current week. It is anticipated that this will be a move to determine whether the Hughes estate was rightly admitted to probate in Danville or if this action should have taken place at the county seat.

Much has been said and much has been written about the "will suit" and there has been no small interest and speculation in the proposed action for the past several months, but no one has made any effort to take up the cause for the heirs at law which could be the beginning of protracted and probably expensive litigation. Notwithstanding the failure of the anticipated developments before now, it is known that a good deal of expense has already been gone to in preparing for the suit and the preparation of evidence has resulted in the accumulation of a considerable amount of documents. It is said that the recent suit of George Samuel Hughes here a few days ago removed a witness who would have appeared both for the defense and for the plaintiffs.

Smith Is Held For County Grand Jury

C. B. Smith, who is charged with responsibility for the possession of 200 gallons of liquor found in a boat at the Suddles near here, surrendered to the Schoolhouse authorities yesterday and was held on $100 bail for the grand jury to be held in session and where possible a very exhaustive enquiry will be made into the surprisingly large liquor shipment alleged to have been made at the Henry station in Franklin county. The magistrate said that Smith showed plainly that he had been ill, his sickness having resulted in several days of rest.

It is being built in the lot adjoining the home of Major Theo Parker and is to cost in the neighborhood of $19,000. Another building permit issued is that to W. B. How Many People Shine Their Own Shoes?

Those Who Do, Save Money and Shoe Leather

"How much for the shine?"

"Ten cents, mister."

Then there's a nickel tip, which makes the shine cost fifteen cents. One man estimated that it cost him over $18.00 a year to have his shoes shined.

The worst of it is, the polish that kept his shoes bright probably ruined them. For many of those old-fashioned polishes were most injurious to leather.

He could have saved $17.75 by using Nu-Shine, which is enough in every bottle for over 50 shines. It costs only 25¢. And every Nu-Shine shoeshine lasts at least a week.

Nu-Shine is also a leather preservative. It works into the pores and softens and water-proofs the leather. The regular use of Nu-Shine preserves leather longer. Nu-Shine should be used by all the family.

It is ideal for women—so quiet, clean and easy. It's wonderful for children's shoes—hides scuffed places as soon as you apply it. Get several colors. Nu-Shine comes in White Kid and White Canvas. Buy it at shoe, drug, grocery and department stores, and at shoe repair shops. Get Nu-Shine to-day. Ask for it by name.

Arrest Negro Assailants Of Policeman Here

By Mills and Carl Reid, negroes between 25 and 30 years of age, were arrested here yesterday afternoon on D. and W. passenger train by Officer P. T. Harris and L. H. Harris and later identified as the two assailants of Police Officer Foster Sites, of Martinsville.

Officer Sites was brutally attacked by the two negroes Sunday evening. He was halled by the two men as he was leaving Martinsville on his way to Fieldale. They wanted a ride to Fieldale and the officer told them to get into his car. For some reason Officer Sites decided not to continue on his way to Fieldale and so informed the two negroes. They practically demanded that the officer carry them to their destination, saying that since he had brought them so far on their way they would have to take them on to Fieldale. Officer Sites refused and the negroes attacked him.

One of them wielded a knife while the other held the officer, who was cut deeply in the neck, cheek and right arm. The gash in the neck came perilously near the jugular vein.

The negroes then secured the officer's revolver and threatened him with it. However, before any more violence was threatened, the negroes became frightened and ran.

Sites was found in a serious state of weakness from loss of blood. He was taken to a hospital in Martinsville, where his wounds were dressed. Yesterday it was stated that he would recover.

Police scoured the country in and around Martinsville yesterday.

The father of Mills was found to be a man of means.

Tells How She Made Money

(Special to The Bee) By Johnnie Van De Graft, NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Ellen O'Bryne loved an Irish tune.

That love and a little bundle of clothes was all that she had when an immigrant girl of 16, she landed in this country.

Today Ellen O'Bryne DeWitt, owns property valued at $200,000. She has started four of her brothers and sisters brought over from this country on their way to material success and has put her four sons through school and established them in business.

New York's thriftest woman they call her down on Third avenue, where the handsome gray-haired woman presides over the destinies of what is now a thriving music house.

Twelve years ago Mrs. DeWitt, after having weathered somewhat more than the usual amount of life's storms, found herself stranded with $100 in her pocket and a young and hungry son clinging to each hand.

Then she remembered the tunes she had loved back home. She took her hundred dollars and started an Irish music store.

At long last she kept the store. At night she would get her boys' supper, help them with their lessons and attend to the shop. Then she would mend their clothes straighten her house and do the family washing. In the morning she would cut out the washing, cook the breakfast and get the boys off to school.

At 9 o'clock she would be down to her storefront.

The store continued to prosper. When the lease expired Mrs. DeWitt bought the building. It seemed to be a good investment so she bought the property next door.

During the year she let it be known that customers might, if they wished, pay for talking machines with Liberty Bonds. Sometime later Mrs. DeWitt purchased a home on Staten Island putting up $4000 in Liberty bonds as collateral. Now she owns two other houses on Staten Island and five lots.

Twelve years ago—$100 and an idea—today—$200,000 and comfort.

"Anybody could do it," says Mrs. DeWitt. "My motto? Being saving and doing something useful every minute."

Poices scoured the country in and around Martinsville yesterday.

PAINFUL HURT SUFFERED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Over Hope had his nose laid open and his face and head frightfully cut when he was hurled through the windshield of a Ford touring car in collision with another Ford touring car near Stokesdale Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Sam Orr, driver of one of the cars, is now in the city jail charged by the Schoolfield authorities with driving a car while under the influence of liquor and carrying concealed weapons. A man named Arnold, of North Carolina, was the driver of the other car. Both cars were practically demolished.

Orr is held responsible for the accident, as it is said that he was driving recklessly and was on the wrong side of the road.

The accident attracted a large crowd and several who came up soon after the accident said that the air rocked with the odor of whisky.

Hope's injury was a distressingly ugly one. The jagged glass of the broken windshield had struck his nose high up on the bridge and bisected that feature. There were also deep cuts on his head and face. He bled profusely from all of his wounds.

A passing physician effected a temporary dressing and the injured man was sent to a local hospital.

Orr was still in the city jail last night awaiting trial and his bail had been postponed on the statement of the defendant that he was not ready for trial. However, he entered a formal plea of not guilty to both charges. His bond was fixed at $200, but he had been unable to make this amount.

WILL CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS OF 2 NOTED GENERALS

The two local chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Danville Chapter and the Ann Eliza Johns Chapter, will hold exercises Friday afternoon, January 19, at 4 o'clock in Memorial Mansion, commemorating the birthdays of General Robert E. Lee and General Stonewall Jackson. Lee's birthday is the 18th anniversary of the 21st, and it has been the custom to celebrate the two birthdays jointly.

An appropriate program is being planned for the occasion. The Rev. Malcom S. Taylor, rector of Epiphany church, will make the address of the day. The program will include readings and music, and the music will include the singing of old war songs.

Members of Cabell Gravys Camp, Confederate Veterans, will be guests of honor.

After the formal exercises there will be a social hour.

The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises.

Would Make Country Unit Of New Act

Juvenile Court Judge Charged With Administration of Mothers' Aid Act Provisions, in Proposal.

(By The Associated Press)

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 16.—The county would be the unit of the Mother's Aid act and its juvenile court judge would be charged with administration of the measure's provisions, according to a draft of the bill which carries an appropriation of $30,000 annually from the State, scheduled to be introduced in the general assembly of North Carolina tomorrow.

Whenever the board of public welfare and the judge of the county juvenile court, after an investigation by the county superintendent of public welfare, determine the amount advisable for the care of a child, or children, and should recommend this appropriation to the board of county commissioners, the latter body would have authority to appropriate the fund it is provided.

Under the provisions, the State would pay half of this appropriation. This would make $100,000 annually available for the Mother's Aid. The State's $50,000 would be apportioned among the counties on a per capita basis so far as practicable, it is provided.

The complete text of the measure, which has been indorsed by the North Carolina Press Association, the State Board of Public Welfare and other organizations, is as follows:

"Section 1. That since it has become understood that the most suitable plan for the rearing of children is in the home under the supervision of a competent mother, the purpose of this act is to aid to certain mothers having no child or children under fourteen years of age, to keep and train such children in their own homes, when such mothers are mentally, morally and physically fit to do so—and who, without such aid, would be compelled either to surrender their children to other care or so seriously neglect them as to endanger their moral, physical and mental welfare."

"Section 2. The county shall be the unit for this act, and the county juvenile court judge of each county is charged with the administration of said act, whether there be other juvenile courts in the county or not, and all references in this act to 'the court' shall be construed to mean the county juvenile court. This act shall be construed liberally for the purposes of securing in good faith and sound judgment the purpose set forth in section one, and with the sole view of attaining the best welfare of the children involved, with due regard for the public interest generally. Whenever the board of public welfare and the judge of the juvenile court of any county shall after investigation agree upon the amount of public welfare to be given, the amount with the portion of this act is advisable for the care of a child or children, and shall recommend to the board of county commissioners that an appropriation be made, the board of county commissioners shall have authority to make such appropriation within the provision of this act."

"Section 3. No mother shall be eligible for aid under this act for more than fifteen dollars per month for one child, ten dollars per month for the second child, and five dollars per month for each additional child; Provided, the total amount shall not exceed forty dollars, except in extraordinary circumstances, in which it appears to the satisfaction of the court that a total of forty dollars per month would be insufficient to secure the purpose above set forth."

"Section 4. Any mother of a child under fourteen years of age who has been a resident of this State for three years and of the county on for her mental, moral and physical fitness, adjudged by the court to be unable to meet the requirements of the act, and her lack of money warrants, shall be eligible for its benefits if she be a widow, or divorced or deserted, if it be found impossible to require the husband to support her, or the husband is found to be mentally or physically incapacitated to support his family, or if the husband be confined in any penal or eiseminary institution, provided no relative is able and willing to undertake to sufficiently by the court and continue the same monthly until the recommendation decree of the court be changed. Such sums shall be paid out of any funds which the county may have at its disposal, and in case no such funds are available the county commissioners shall include in its next regular tax levy a sufficient levy to meet the estimated requirements of this act for each succeeding year.

"Section 5. At the end of each fiscal quarter the treasurer of the county wherein aid has been granted shall furnish an itemized statement in each case of amounts paid, duly certified by him under oath, to the State board of charities and public welfare. If each case thereon shall have been approved by the State board of charities and public welfare, and all required regulations of this act are fulfilled, the State board of charities and public welfare shall certify the account to the State treasurer, whereupon the State treasurer shall immediately make out and forward o such county treasurer his voucher for one-half of his total amount certified as having actually been paid out by the county. Such voucher shall be made out against any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. Provided the total account for the State shall not exceed maximum of fifty thousand dollars per year, and this sum shall be apportioned among the counties on a per capita basis as far as practicable.

"Section 6. All laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this chapter are hereby repealed."

"Section 7. This act shall be in force from and after its ratification, tenth aid her. The provision shall not be construed to mean that if the mother is given partial aid or assistance by any relative or charitable organization, that she shall not benefit under the provision of this act."

"Section 8. In any case arising under this act it shall be the duty of the court to use its friendly and helpful offices, both before and after the case is adjudicated, to help the mother solve her difficulties; and the court shall direct the county superintendent of public welfare to make a thorough investigation and report in writing all the facts and circumstances which would be of help in informing the court of all the true circumstances of the case. In case aid is granted, the court shall continue its helpful oversight and require the county superintendent of public welfare to keep in friendly contact with the family to see that the purpose of this act is being secured, and to assist therein, and financial aid may be withdrawn at any time when it appears that such purpose is not being served or the mother has remarried or otherwise become ineligible for aid."

"Section 9. The State board of charities and public welfare shall have general oversight of the administration of this act, with the view of making it uniform throughout the State, shall furnish all blanks necessary, and give such advice and help as it can in order to aid in efficiently securing its purpose. The county superintendent of public welfare shall make a report on any case to the court in duplicate, one copy of which shall be forwarded at once, with the action of the court, to the board of county commissioners in writing, and at the first regular meeting after receipt of such notice the board of county commissioners may order its treasurer to pay said amount to the person designated by the court.

"Section 10. No mother shall be eligible for aid under this act for more than fifteen dollars per month for one child, ten dollars per month for the second child, and five dollars per month for each additional child; Provided, the total amount shall not exceed forty dollars, except in extraordinary circumstances, in which it appears to the satisfaction of the court that a total of forty dollars per month would be insufficient to secure the purpose above set forth."

"Section 11. Any mother of a child under fourteen years of age who has been a resident of this State for three years and of the county on for her mental, moral and physical fitness, adjudged by the court to be unable to meet the requirements of the act, and her lack of money warrants, shall be eligible for its benefits if she be a widow, or divorced or deserted, if it be found impossible to require the husband to support her, or the husband is found to be mentally or physically incapacitated to support his family, or if the husband be confined in any penal or eiseminary institution, provided no relative is able and willing to undertake to sufficiently by the court and continue the same monthly until the recommendation decree of the court be changed. ## For the Game's Sake

(Copyright, 1923, by The Bee)

BY LAWRENCE PERRY.
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—In the light of the meet of the Osceola Club of New York, which opened the indoor track season of 1923, the writer ventures the prediction today that the coming winter will be the greatest the sport has ever known.

The statement is based not only upon the size of the attendance and the enthusiasm that developed, but only the wide geographical distribution of the participating athletes, as well as their ability in various specialties.

From now until the middle of March every week will see two or three major meets in New York, with Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston, Newark, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities contributing their quota, not forgetting outstanding performers from the various collegiate centers.

Just at present the high points of the indoor season are the Millrose games in New York—the great and makes classic—and the inter-collegiate meet held early in March. The conference indoor championships stand out in the Chicago area, while the Johns Hopkins games provide the apex for the Southern season. The Far West as yet has done nothing with winter games, chiefly, it seems, because the climate favors the Lower California, while the north coasters have facilities for winter training.

Outstanding contests of the year look to be matches at the mile whorl Jole Ray and his pet rival, Ray Watson.

The sprints promise the keenest sort of sport with Farrell, Woodring, Lever, Comte, McAllister and possibly Charley Paddock leading the mark.

Perhaps the event that will develop the greatest interest will be that certain to produce a new record, is the high jump. At the Millrose games we are likely to see the six greatest high-jumpers in the world in action, viz. Alberts and Osborne, of Illinois; Murphy, of Notre Dame, Roy Brown, of Dartmouth, the inter-collegiate champion, Dick Landen and Olympic champion, Andrew Newell.

One of the high hopes for now men is the hurdler. The most promising youngster is Avery, of Princeton, who has done close to 15 seconds.

CHRISTIANS LOSE PRETTY GAME TO SLEDD MEMORIAL

Sledd Memorial defeated the Christians last night in one of the best games of the season, the contest ending 24-20.

It was hard fought from start to finish and was only decided in the last half minute of play when Runyon caged the last of the seven goals made by each. The Christian boys played a hard fast game and did some clever passing and shooting. Nolan especially played a fine game while Flynn caged the most field goals, having five to his credit.

LANDIS MAY OR MAY NOT GET INTO FIGHT

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, Commissioner of Baseball, was still undecided tonight whether he will take a hand in the word battle over the major-minor draft question.

After mailing over William H. McCarthy's statement at San Francisco last night in which the Pacific Coast League president charged that the former judge is a false nose who has failed to lead baseball back to promised land the commissioner indicated tonight that he might take a turn at bat but then in answer to a question he countered:

"Can you see any need for erecting a ring, climbing in and going to it every time some gentleman happens to pop off?"

For want of a regular fight with the commissioner the minor league magnates filed in the day by starting a wild row in their own house with McCarthy and Al Ternay, president of the Western and the Three I Leagues, both taking shots at Mike Sexton, president of the minors.

TO ACCEPT CHALLENGE

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 15.—The British American Cup Committee today decided to accept the challenge of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club of Oyster Bay, N. Y., for a series of six races for the Seawanhaka Challenge Cup to be held in the Solent next August. The cup was captured from the Manchester Yacht Club last summer by the Cointer I. L. sailing under the colors of the Royal Northern Yacht Club. The races were held off Manchester, Mass., and the Seawanhaka Corinthian Club subsequently pressed a return series.

Will Jack Dempsey Be Able to Break Headlock

HOW DEMPSEY WOULD LOOK IN THE CLUTCHES OF THE HEADLOCK AS CLAMPED ON BY LEWIS.

(Special to The Bee)

If Jack Dempsey should ever meet Strangler Lewis in a mixed match, Dempsey would break the deadly headlock which has won so many matches for Lewis.

When the question was put to Dempsey, he simply replied:

"Why worry about that feature of the match—there isn't a chance in the world for Lewis to get a headlock on me."

Strangler Lewis in a mixed match to the stomach and a right to the jaw will soon settle the bout. The stomach muscles of the wrestlers won't stand much mauling."

I don't believe Dempsey would last over ten minutes. That's about as long as he would be able to keep his feet. Once I forced Dempsey to the floor, the match would soon be over."

"What do you think about it?

NOTRE DAME COACH WILL HOLD SUMMER SCHOOL

(Special to The Bee)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 16.—Knute K. Rockne's successful system of building football machines will be offered to coaches throughout the country next summer when the University of Notre Dame establishes a school for football coaches under the personal direction of the famous mentor.

The course will be three weeks in length and will begin on Aug. 1. Every branch of the gridiron sport will be taken up, with demonstrations by line and backfield play adopted here.

LOCAL "Y" TO PLAY SCHOOLFIELD TEAM TONIGHT

The Danville Y. M. C. A. team will line up against the strong Schoolfield "Y" team tonight at 8:15 o'clock on the Municipal Hall floor. Schoolfield has a fast quint this year and the team is playing in line form. This team has been runner-up in the all southern textile tournaments for two years and they are determined to win this year.

The local boys put in a fast practice last night and are going in the game with a determination to win. A fast game can be expected by the fours, who are urged to come out and help the boys on to victory.

An added attraction will be put on in a game between the Juniors of both Y. M. C. A.'s. The Danville Juniors are working together smoothly with signs for every play and the five man defense is worked by them in clever style.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE DIVIDES

(By the Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 15.—The Pacific Coast Baseball League members divided four to four on a vote today on a resolution endorsing President W. H. McCarthy on the stand he has taken in the dispute with the major leagues on the question of drafting players from the minor leagues. McCarthy himself cast an affirmative vote for the resolution.

The league members voted to raise the player limit after May 1, from 25 to 28 with the provision that five of the 25 must not have higher than class B experience.

Catcher Muddy Ruel Is Full-Fledged Lawyer

(Special to The Bee)

FOUR or five years ago, Harold "Muddy" Ruel was the most talked about catcher in the American League.

Ruel was then a member of the New York Yankees, a very flashy performer and noted by the critics as the coming star of the major league catchers.

A second Ray Schalk was the companion often made by the baseball experts in discussing the future of Ruth. Ruel didn't go to the head of the youngster. On the contrary, he went along like the ordinary recruit who still had to make good. In the winter time instead of idling his hours Ruel attended the law school of Washington University at St. Louis.

"I may not come as fast as some of the experts predict and I want to have a profession to fall back on when I am through with baseball," was Ruel's explanation of why he took up law.

Ruel certainly had the right idea. While a very capable performer, he never quite reached the heights attained by Ray Schalk. Several times injuries greatly handicapped him just as he was getting into his stride.

Ruel still a youngster has at least 15 years more of baseball before him if he wants to stick. In all probability Ruel will quit the game when he falls back on. Only recently he passed the bar examinations in St. Louis and he will have a profession to and is almost a full-fledged lawyer.

Bout Between Carpenter and Siki Not Fixed

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, Jan. 15.—All of those accused in connection with the alleged "fixme-up" of the championship match between Battling Siki and Georges Carpenter are declared innocent in a report submitted to the French Boxing Federation today by the committee which has been investigating the charges.

The report says:

"The committee is absolutely convinced that the match on September 24, 1922, was not preceded by an understanding, the effect of which was to arrange the events of the match and fix the results."

The investigators express regret that certain circumstances have given weight to the accusations in the eyes of many sportsmen. They recommend that the federation in the future take steps to have its regulations strictly applied, so that announcements of purpose will not be made which fail to correspond with the contracts signed by the boxers, and proper orders will be maintained round the boxing rings.

The decision of the investigating committee clears Siki's former manager, M. Jellens, and Georges Carpenter and his manager, Francois Deschamps, from charges that an agreement was made by which the Senegalese was to join defeat in the fourth round.

It is agreed that the boxer must work hard, but after all the heart of one man may be endowed for the job, and the heart of another, not no matter how hard he works and how he trains.

on how Kiviat has lived for the past

Would Kiviat Be Successful As Runner Again

BY WALTER CAMP.

(Copyright 1923, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—There is no reason in the world today why Abel Kiviat should not be sound as a bell. He is just past thirty. He is said to have lived the ideal life for an athlete. That isn't a great age even for a fighter. And, therefore, it should not be for a runner.

It is true that the former mile champion succesed after seven years out of competition, however, in coming back to his old form, it will be a marvelous demonstration, for seven years out of any job is a long time. It will be paricularly interesting as it would seem to indicate that the real middle distance runners, who are so tremendously successful, perhaps, like paces, are bound to make a come-back.

Of course, the man who gets to the top notch must work and work hard, but after all the heart of one man may be endowed for the job, and the heart of another, not no matter how hard he works and how he trains.

Everything, of course, will depend

English Movie Man Says U. S. Films Too High

LONDON, Jan. 15.—"People who have made great fortunes in the motion picture industry, people like Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and Douglas Fairbanks, owe it to the industry that made them, and which they helped make and cannot wish to destroy, to see that exhibitors get their films at the lowest reasonable price, not the highest possible price. Their help is needed by the industry in these hard times."

Sir Oswald Stoll, head of the Stoll Film Company, the largest picture producing concern in Great Britain, voiced in the words quoted in the test of British motion picture exhibitors against "extortionate prices," which, they claim, "they are being asked to pay for the 'really good' American films. American producers, they contend, must cut the price of their product and improve the general quality of their pictures if they are to continue to reap profits from the British motion picture field."

For Small Profit.

"The lowest profit on which exhibitors can live must be more than sufficient to compensate the occasional losses to which every exhibitor in hard times is exposed," Sir Oswald continued. "These stars of the screen who draw the public have it in their power to insure this profit by limiting the price that an exhibitor can be charged and by insisting on the exhibition at the orthodox picture theatres only. If this were done the exhibitors in pictures, who exploit them unfairly to the detriment of the whole industry, would have to change their methods."

The business methods of many American producers were roundly scored by Sir Oswald. He predicted that unless these methods were changed Americans not only would lose the foothold in the film industry that they have gained in Europe but would strangle their own business in the United States.

Wants Good Films.

"The exhibition of foreign films," Sir Oswald said, "adds to the interest of the cinema, but the good films are not allowed to reach the ordinary exhibitor, except at exorbitant prices. The indecent foreign films price is allowed to have at so-called reasonable prices. Most of these pictures are not worthy of being shown by the general exhibitor at any price."

"Previous to the world war," he said, "we were getting just as good roads built for $4,000 and $5,000 per mile as now cost $15,000 and $20,000 per mile. The farmer's products were bringing as much before the war as now, and measured in what his products will now buy of other commodities—which is the only correct way—they are only bringing half as much now as before the war."

Mr. Lambert said that almost 100 years ago Virginia issued her first bonds for certain internal improvements. "By January 18, 1861," he declared, "she had issued $33,600 worth of bonds. At that time Virginia made certain adjustments with her creditors to the amount of $3,600,000. Later, in the settlement with West Virginia, something over $1,000,000 was turned over to West Virginia as her part of the debt."

Virginia paid off its debts in 1921, about $22,000,000, leaving an unpayable balance of $1,000,000.

"If the foreign films are to be shown in this country the good films, as well as the bad, should be at the disposal of the general exhibitor at prices that will enable him to make a profit. If foreign producers and their financial backers do not recognize this they will kill the picture industry."

To controvert the activities of American producers, who now almost monopolize the British picture field, it is planned to hold a "British Film Week." Sir Oswald revealed.

British picture theatres are to be open to show during one week in 1923 only pictures that have been produced in England.

Bacchus Home Product.

"British pictures are more remunerative to the exhibitor than some seem to believe," Sir Oswald continued. "In our own business last year a comparison was made between the average weekly profit for the number of weeks in which British pictures were shown and the average profit for the British pictures was the higher of the two by a substantial amount."

The British film magnate was outspoken in his condemnation of the "methods of a few astute American speculators, whose sole activities are a huge gamble performed to a joint and continuous advertising scream." He charged that the American motion picture industry is being strangled by a producer ring.

Sir Oswald deplored film censorship.

WORLD PEACE THRU EDUCATION

BERKELEY, Cal., Jan. 15.—World peace through education will be fostered by prominent educators from all parts of the world who will meet here for two weeks preceding the National Educational Association convention in Oakland, an adjoining city, next July, according to an announcement by Dr. Walter Morris Hart, dean of the summer session of the University of California.

The designation of a day to be known as "World Good Will Day" and a more effective system of the teaching of international civics are among the projects to be considered at the conference.

In his announcement Hart set forth the objects of the conference as follows:

To promote friendship, justice and good will among the nations of the earth.

To bring about a world-wide tolerance of the rights and privileges of all nations regardless of race or creed.

To develop an appreciation of the value of the inherited gifts of nationality through centuries of development and progress.

To secure more accurate and satisfying information and more adequate statements in the text books used in the schools to the various countries.

To foster a national comradeship and a confidence which will produce a more sympathetic appreciation among nations.

To inculcate into the minds and hearts of the rising generation those spiritual values necessary to carry forward the principles emphasized in the conference on limitation of armaments.

To call all the schools to emphasize the unity of mankind, the evils of war and the necessity of universal peace.

The teaching system of exchange teachers and students between nations is another idea to be discussed at the conference.

THE sea nymphs are wearing caps like this at the southern beaches and resorts at present and when summer comes, fashion authorities say, they'll be the rage farther north. Of course they're of rubber, to be napped men pupones and a hat's a dozen other wittiness.

They're equally effective with the simple Annette Kellerman type of bathing costume and the more elaborate creations of taffeta and satin.

Carpenter's testimony related to the seizure of Alonzo Braddock, a Moonhouse farmer, by a band of unmasked men said to have been headed by Captain J. P. Skipwith. Carpenter denied that the men who participated in the arrest of Braddock were commissioned as sheriff's deputies but asserted that he had told Skipwith when the Klan leader informed him that he had located some "stills" and asked to be deputized "to go out and get the stills."

Carpenter said at the time no warrant had been issued for Braddock. F. C. Lason, of Monroe, another witness, repeated a conversation he said he had with Captain Skipwith after the kidnapping of Daniel and Richard.

Captain Skipwith asked me if I knew anything of Daniel and Richard. I said it was a sorry come off. He said you probably do not know why it was done but the community thought they were bad characters and needed attention.

Both insisted that the Klan had no part in the kidnapping but that the gathering of Klansmen was deemed advisable as a precautionary measure in view of intense feeling prevailing in the parish.

"Why did you klansmen wait up that night?" was asked of Harp.

"It takes a long time to tell that story," Harp said.

We heard the people of Mer Rouge had guns and a regular arsenal and we thought they might come over and burn the kidnapping on the Klan. We knew they were mad and up in arms about the kidnapping of Richard a week before and we were afraid it would be bad at our door."

Jones testified along much the same lines as Harp as to the gathering in the Eastrop store.

He told of making the round with his friends in Eastrop stores, trying to learn which might be responsible, but without result. At no place, he declared, could he find information as to who were in the party of men who took part.

Frozen Body Of Bank Bandit Is Found In Auto

(By The Associated Press)

DUNNIN, Colo., Jan. 15.—The slain bandit, whose frozen body was found last night seated in an automobile in a private garage and regarded by police as the master mind of a desperate gang of criminals was identified today as J. C. Sloan, of Casper, Wyoming. Russ Williams, chief of Denver police, said he was one of the men the police have sought since December 18 last when robbers made away with $200,000 in currency from a Federal Reserve Bank truck in front of the mint, killing Charles T. Linton, a guard.

Sloan it was, police say, who offered himself as a target standing upon the running board of the bandit car as it sped away and desperately fled at mint guards.

Sloan's body was found with bullet in the heart and police declare he was instantly killed by a bullet from the revolver of Pete Kadinger, a guard employed at the mint.

Police believe that after placing Sloan's body in the automobile the rest of the gang drove to the garage near 17th and Gilpin streets, locked the automobile inside and escaped. None of the loot was found in the bandit's car.

The identification of Sloan, according to Chief Williams, is the forerunner of the early capture of the rest of the gang.

The Omaha, Nebraska, police last week had Mrs. Sloan supposed to be the bandit's wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Burns and Columbus Thompson under surveillance for the Denver authorities but when a detective squad descended upon the hotel where the quartet were staying, they had gone.

Sloan, according to the police, was the leader of one of the most daring gangs of desperadoes in the country.

This gang went wild only for "big money," said the officers, and one of the admission requirements was deadly marksmanship with either a revolver, rifle or shot gun. The reckless driving of Sloan's gunmen was demonstrated in the mint robbery, when Sloan, pumping a hail of buckshot at the main door of the mint offered himself as a target for the bullets of the government guards, while his pals transferred the $200,000 in currency to their stolen automobile.

With the leader dead, the police say it was the gang's part to take care of his wife. Part of them scattered but according to police theory, Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Burns took Mrs. Sloan with them.

Kadinger, declared today he had positively identified the bandit's body as that of the man who took part in the robbery of December 18 and stood with a pump shot gun and fired at the government guards under the fell and was dragged into the robber car.

Large quantities of persons passed through the dingy little room at the county hospital used a morgue today to gaze on the bandit's body.

YOUR DREAMS.

Did you ever have a dream in which you toiled until exhausted then wakened in the morning all tired out?

Rodger Dolan had such a dream last night. It seemed that he was far up in Canada, in a logging crew, and that he chopped wood hour after hour. Quitting-time finally came, and just as Dolan was curling up in his greenland bunk, for a sound sleep

the alarm clock woke him up.

"I wouldn't mind it so much," he says. "If I had any wood to show for my work."

Dolan wants to know why he was as if it ached, when he wakened, as if he had really put in eight hours with it.

A plausible explanation of this might be that the feeling of fatigue arises in the brain, where dreams are staged, and that exhaustion is telegraphed from brain cells to muscles and joints.

Here again we encounter the terrible force, Imagination, along the Course of reasoning.

We recall a baseball pitcher who dreamed that he pitched a 30-inning game. Next day his arm was so sore and exhausted that he couldn't hit it.

Obviously, since his arm had not gone through the gestures of pitching

during sleep, his fatigue was imaginary. Or, at least, it originated in Imagination, then the imaginary condition was translated into actual exhaustion of bodily cells.

Conceding all this, it will appear to most of us as a logical proposition, in endeavor to imagine that we are healthy and that our endearing batteries are charged with plenty of reserve energy. The rule works backward the same as forward.

Some psychics believe that, in sleep, the spirit leaves the body and carries on a separate existence in some other "world" planet, dimension or earthly location, returning to the body at the moment of awakening.

It would have to travel with lightning speed to get back to the sleeper wakened unexpectedly in the middle of the night.

The bizarre is interesting, whether we agree or not.

In the last analysis, our state of mind emanations dominate our actions. You see this illustrated in the World War. People had to be woken up to a warlike state of mind imagination before they were ready to face the sharpened bayonets.

And there cannot be real peace in France until the people get into a peaceful state of mind—freed of hatred, rancor and stubborn refusal to admit the truth.

How many words can you make out of the letters in the title?

Each merchant whose ad appears on this page has been provided with a number of passes for "To Have and To Hold" at the Broadway Theatre which will be awarded on this basis: Clip the ad of any store you wish and take it to that store with a list of all the English words you can form out of the letters appearing in the title "To Have and To Hold." List of 100 words entitles you to 1 ticket; 150 words, 2 tickets; 198 words, 3 tickets. No proper names counted—no colloquial or foreign words. Here you have a chance to play a fascinating game and see one of the finest photoplays of the year. It's easy—try it!

Man Dies Racing Upstairs With Wife For Dollar

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Even in the death house at Sing Sing, with death in the electric chair only a few weeks away, troubles continue to disturb the peace of mind of J. Aldrich Westling.

Today Westling was made defendant in a civil suit for $30,000 by two men who claim they were injured by an automobile Westling was driving.

Warden Lawes has received notice that he must serve the paper suit.

Westling's co-defendant with J. W. Leinenweber, refused to be served with the papers in the suit, saying he was insured and that it was up to the insurance company to look after his affairs when he died.

Rhineland Republic Is Suggested Again

COBLENZ, Jan. 14.—The incorporation of the Ruhr valley into the territory administered by the Rhineland high commission is the next step to be taken by the French in the opinion of American experts here, as the German zone is definitely evacuated and Major General Allen has surrendered his authority, which came originally from the 1815 armistice.

There has been talk of a Rhineland republic, but so long as the American troops had control of one of the areas, that was not possible. The departure of the Americans has revived discussion of this subject.

999, World's Fastest Locomotive, Destined To Be Historical Relic

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The King's Messenger true to romance today defeated Disgrace again and arrived, dramatically breathless, with the royal pardon for the erstwhile idol of the court, fallen on evil days. But in the days of machines the hero is of steel and iron, and the pardon, the announcement that space devoted to historical objects—a corner of a forgotten scrap pile, has been chosen for a nationally famous locomotive.

The officers named were: President, president, C. Moran Barry, of Norfolk, W. S. Moye, of Rocky Mount, vice-chairman statistician S. T. Potts.

With the announcement of President Moye that during the day he had positively arranged for taking over the franchise of the defunct Newport News club, and that he could give his assurance that there would be no further hitch in the negotiations, the league proceeded with the organization of the circuit. It was also announced that the Richmond franchise had been acquired by H. P. Dawson, of Portsmouth, and that Dave Robertson, formerly of the New York National League club, had been selected as the 1923 leader.

Only $2 Left,
He Says, After
$15,000 Theft

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Leroy Jones of Brooklyn was arrested and confessed to police said to be the thief of $15,000 from the Norwegian-American Securities Corporation.

Jones was treasurer of the corporation for four years. The police say he admitted manipulating accounts and appropriating the money to his own use. He said he lost the money in Wall Street speculation.

Jones returned from a hunting trip to Canada and was with his wife and seven-year-old daughter when arrested at his home. He said all his financial resources were represented by $2 he had in his pocket.

Cupid Finds New Ally In Cœu As He Cures Failures In Love

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Dan Cupid has found a new ally. He is Emily Cœu, the "better ever, day" exponent. Today a fat, little man, with an apologetic mustache, wandered into M. Cœu's clinic, he had been a failure in love and bus'ness, stuttered when he met strangers—and was a bachelor at middle age.

A moment later, he was saying "day by day, in every way, I am getting better and better, and in half an hour he told the doorman as he left that he didn't expect to be a victim of shyness much longer as far as love was concerned."
